

his jailers before he died naked on his cell floor in August 2014. # In March, the El Paso County Coroner's Office concluded that his rapid deterioration was the result of deadly withdrawals after he was deprived of his prescription Klonopin, an anti-anxiety drug similar to Ativan or Xanax. # The finding verified a central claim in a wrongful death lawsuit filed in March 2016 in U.S. District Court in Denver, with Correct Care Solutions among the defendants. # The autopsy didn't explain how he suffered multiple broken ribs or why he had an imprint of a jail-issue sandal on his lower back. #

Your browser does not support IFrame Embeds, please update your browser to view this gallery